

Quarterly review

Portfolio Health Checklist

The 24 things every private landlord with 2–50 properties should review every quarter. Most people skip half of them. The half they skip is usually where the money is.

Use this once a quarter. Run it asset-by-asset for the first three checks, then step back and run the portfolio-wide section. Each item takes 1–5 minutes if your records are in order. If something takes longer, that's a signal worth noting.

01 · Per-asset checks

Run for every property in your portfolio. ~5 min per asset.

☐ Real net yield, recomputed

Annual rent minus vacancy, management fees, service charge, repairs, mortgage interest, and applicable tax — divided by current value. Compare to last quarter and to local market median.

☐ Cashflow this quarter, actual vs expected

Rent collected vs rent due. Any gap = a question for your agent or tenant. A 5%+ gap unexplained is a flag.

☐ Operator statement reconciled (STR only)

Compare gross bookings on the statement against your platform calendar (Airbnb, Booking.com). Check commission % and cleaning per-stay. Off by more than 3%? Ask why.

☐ Tenancy / lease status

End date, renewal probability, market rent vs current rent. If a renewal is within 90 days, start the conversation now.

☐ Loan status and rate reversion date

Days until your fixed rate reverts. Below 90 days = start refinancing research. Below 60 days = lock in or accept the SVR jump.

☐ Insurance expiry

Renewal date, premium movement vs last year. Rising premiums (above local CPI) usually mean a claim history elsewhere in your provider's book — shop around.

☐ Service charge / HOA fees

Statement received this quarter? Any line item up >10% vs prior period? Reserve fund still funded for the next major work?

☐ Capex pipeline (next 12 months)

Known repairs, replacements, upgrades. Each with an estimated cost and a month. If none, you probably haven't looked.

02 · Portfolio-wide checks

Run once across the portfolio. ~20 minutes.

☐ Blended net yield

Weighted by current value. Trending up, flat, or down vs last quarter? Why? A single underperformer can drag a portfolio yield meaningfully.

☐ 12-month rolling cashflow

Project the next 12 months including known stage payments, capex, and mortgage payments. Any month negative? Plan now, not in month 11.

☐ Currency exposure

What % of your equity sits in each currency? Is it where you want it to be? Currency drift adds risk that compounds silently.

☐ Geographic concentration

Largest country exposure as % of portfolio value. Above 50% is normal for accumulators; above 80% is a single-jurisdiction risk that deserves a deliberate decision.

☐ Leverage profile

Total LTV across the portfolio. Each asset's LTV. Any above 80%? Refinance options narrow quickly past that line.

☐ Off-plan handover dates

Within 12 months: full action plan written down. Within 6 months: financing locked in or sale path defined. See the off-plan handover guide if uncertain.

☐ Documents up to date

Title deeds, leases, mortgage docs, valuations, insurance certificates — all in one place, current versions, accessible from anywhere. Loss of any of these costs days to recover.

☐ Tax records reconciled

Income, expenses, capital movements logged for the year-to-date. Don't make your accountant your bookkeeper.

03 · Action priority

What to do with the results.

The output of this checklist is a written list of issues. Triage:

Red — act within 7 days. Cashflow gone or going negative within 3 months. Loan reversion inside 60 days. Asset underperforming market by 15%+ with no plan.

Amber — act within 30 days. Operator statement variance unexplained. Service charge anomaly. Capex item now overdue.

Yellow — action within the quarter. Slow yield drift, lease end within 6–12 months, documents incomplete.

Green — record and move on. Performance in line with expectation, no near-term events.

04 · How to use this with AssetCentral

If you use the product, much of the above is automated.

AssetCentral's portfolio workspace runs items 01.1, 01.2, 01.3, 01.5, 01.6, 02.1, 02.2, 02.3, 02.4, 02.5, and 02.6 automatically — calculating, flagging, and surfacing them in your dashboard. Items 01.4, 01.7, 01.8, and 02.7 are partially automated (document vault, alert engine) and partially still on you. Item 02.8 is intentionally not automated; reconciling your tax records is your accountant's territory.

Start your free 14-day trial at assetcentral.ai/signup — no credit card required. Add your first property in 5 minutes; the workspace runs the checks above on every quarterly cadence and alerts you when a red or amber item appears.
